

Real Meeting, Virtual Audience.

Communication in your organization is vital, now more than ever. Keep your company's plans and workgroups functioning smoothly.

We are experienced in producing meetings and events while streaming it live to an online audience. With multiple camera angles from a meeting space, recreate the look, feel and sound of the actual event and send it to your attendees electronically.

Actual Meeting. Imagine keynote speakers or panel discussions onstage delivering their message. Everything is in place for an interactive broadcast.

Audience participation. People want to feel included, even in a remote setting. Live Q&A and real-time polling provide the participant a full interactive experience.

Budget Neutral. The cost for the streaming equipment and extra cameras is usually offset by the removal of large audio system and audience lighting.

Event Size. Recreate settings from small breakouts to full general sessions.
